He was kept there for some time and showed such unmistakable signs of insanity that he was committed to the asylum at Harrisburg. He was there for some time when he suddenly disappeared. Shot Himself Awaiting Confinement.

Mrs. Ida Anthony, wife of Edward Anthony, residing in Berwick township, shot herself with a 32-calibre revolver, at her home, last Saturday forenoon March 30, about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Anthony was about to be confined and Dr. T. C. Miller of Abbotstown, had been summoned to the Anthony home about 9 o'clock. In his presence, Mrs. Anthony unexpectedly arose in her bed, and requested her husband to procure some water for her from the well of a neighbor—a distance of several hundred yards from the Anthony home—giving as a reason that the water was better than the water from the well at her own home. The husband, in response to her wishes, procured a vessel and went for the water. He had scarcely left his home until Mrs. Anthony suddenly left her bed and went to an adjoining room, closing the door after her. Dr. Miller gave her action no special thought. A moment later he was startled by a loud report and upon opening the door to the room into which Mrs. Anthony, a few minutes before had gone, was horrified as he beheld the woman kneeling in front of a bed, her face covered by her hands, and a 32-calibre revolver lying by her side. The doctor shouted: "Woman, what have you done?" Mrs. Anthony was only semi-conscious and he was unable to get an answer from her. He discovered that her pulse was still beating and on an examination found a bullet cavity through her left breast, about two inches above the heart.

By this time Mr. Anthony returned with the water, and he assisted the doctor in getting the woman back to her bed. During this time the unfortunate woman showed signs of consciousness and the doctor again made an effort to find out the cause for her rash act. She hesitated, however, to make a reply, but on repeated importuning, finally said she would give her reasons at some later time.

In this distressful crisis, the child—a daughter—was born.

On account of the peculiar circumstances of the case, the doctor's diagnosis of the seriousness of the wound could not be fully determined, but he feared that the bullet may be lodged in the spine.

About noon the doctor left for his home, and returned at 6 o'clock Saturday evening. He found the woman doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Grim, of Berwick township, parents of Mrs. Anthony, were summoned, and to them she said she was sorry for having done what she did.

Mrs. Anthony was about 28 years of age, and she is the mother of six children—four of whom are living, the oldest being 10 years of age. She has had other spells of melancholia, but this is the first time she attempted to end her life.

Finds $750 in Old Box.

William Mumert, who is remodeling the old Mumert homestead on Main street, McSherrystown, made quite a "lucky strike." In tearing down an old brick fire place, Mr. Mumert noticed among the debris a small wooden box. In giving it a kick, he discovered that it possessed great weight for so small a box. He picked it up, and after unfastening the two small brass clasps, which securely held the lid in place, was astonished in finding three bags containing gold and silver coins, to the amounting of about $750. Mr. Mumert was greatly excited after his unexpected find, and the remodeling operations were continued with more vim and enthusiasm than before.

NATIVE OF TOWN MURDERED

OZELAH JONES RAUEN SHOT AND KILLED BY HUSBAND

Brother of Murderer Killed at Same Time. Tragedy takes Place on Street in Washington.

Ozelah Jones Rauhen, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Jones of this place, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Rauhen, was shot and killed by her husband, Samuel Wm. Rauhen, on last Friday evening in Washington, D. C., and at the same time the murderer shot his own brother, John Rauhen. The murder took place on Seventh avenue of Washington, in front of the house in which the aunts of the murdered woman lived, Mrs. Katie Mayes and Mrs. Sallie Ketcham, both widows. Ozelah Jones was but 15 years of age and last September married Samuel Wm. Rauhen, aged 25 years. They went to Chicago, the home of Rauhen on a wedding trip, where it is said the wife had her husband arrested for threats. They returned to Washington on Jan. 5, and took up their residence at the home of her aunts, 1016 Seventh avenue. On Feb. 2 Rauhen was again arrested on complaint of his wife for assault. He is alleged to have choked her severely and received a 60 day term. Since his release from prison he has been living at the Lawrence Hotel, where the police say his dead brother paid his bill for board and lodging.

Last Thursday evening he went to see his wife and asked her to live with him again. Ozelah refused to live with him and he told her, "Well, I'll say goodbye for you will never see me again. I shall kill myself before morning." It was not believed he would carry out his threat. On Friday evening he came to the house again. Husband and wife were sitting on the front door steps when the brother, John Rauhen came along and sat down, with Ozelah between the two. The husband became enraged and on the pretext of getting a drink of water went into the house. Returning he came up to his wife, stooped over her and without saying a word fired a shot into her head just below the left ear, and as she was slipping from step to step again, the second ball entering her breast. The brother jumped to his feet and a third shot was fired by the husband, at his brother entreng the right side of the chest and as he faced the man with the revolver a fourth shot was fired which pierced the heart of his brother.

A policeman standing four doors away said he saw the man get up and enter the house. That there was no evidence of any preliminary quarrel and that he saw him return and lean over his wife as if to whisper to her. The policeman started for him as soon as first shot was fired but the tragedy had been completed before he reached the man. Rauhen then handed the revolver to the policeman and made no resistance, being taken to prison.

John M. Rauhen, the dead brother, was a private in Co. B, First Battalion of Engineers, and died instantly. Ozelah Rauhen, the wife, was placed in an ambulance and died on the way to the Emergency Hospital. The dead man was the only brother of the murderer. Their parents are dead. Three sisters are living in Chicago. The brothers enlisted together in the Engineer Corps and Samuel was recently honorably discharged as a corporal.

The murderer since his arrest has been talking about the shooting. Jealousy and a bad temper seem to have been the cause of the killing and he is seeking to justify his double crime on the assertion that his brother had threatened his life, saying that he "called at the barracks after his discharge and had a few words and my brother told me he would get me some time. I knew he always carried a gun and after that talk I began to carry mine. I met him on the avenue last Friday and running my hand lightly down his side discovered he had a gun with him."

"When I was sitting with my wife Friday evening on the front door step about 6.30 John came along and sat down. John made several moves toward his back pocket and I felt sure he was seeing if his gun was there where he could get at it. Presently I got up to get a drink of water and saw them nudge each other and laugh as I was going into the house. John went back toward his pocket again. I stepped into the hallway and shifted my gun from my hip pocket to the right pocket of my coat. As I came out the door John turned in his seat and made a move that looked bad to me. I jerked out my gun, shot my wife twice and then put two more bullets into my brother."

The mother of Ozelah Jones Rauhen went to Washington on Saturday and the body was brought to this place for interment.

Court Notes.

Hon. W. F. Sadler, President Judge of Cumberland county, specially presided at a court held last Friday. Associate Judges W. Howard Dicks and Leo A. Sneeringer were in attendance and the following business was transacted:

Wm. H. Frook, who has been Tax Collector of Gettysburg for about a quarter of a century, handed in his resignation and three applications were presented to succeed him, one by Harry Bumbaugh, a second by Ernest Weaver, and a third by Peter Culp. The petitions were numerously signed. The Court appointed Peter Culp. The exact reasons for the choice of the Court was not made known. The public support given the various applicants was nearly alike and the appointment was much discussed. It is said that two of the applicants seemed to have divided up the bank support of the town and the Court instead of making choice between the same appointed the other man.

George Pettis pleaded guilty to a charge of having gambling machines at his shoe shining establishment in Gettysburg. Judge Sadler suspended sentence until April Court when it will be finally suspended provided Mr. Pettis is not found guilty of any similar offense in the meantime. The machines are to be destroyed and the costs will be paid by Pettis, the affair proving quite expensive as one of the devices was of quite a substantial and elaborate character. Whether or not the loss will fall to Pettis or to the party owning and renting the machine is not known.

The return of the coroner's inquest over the body of James Herley was made. The jury found that James Herley "came to his death from a bullet wound fired by his own hand."

DEATH OF AUGUSTUS DUNCAN

ONE OF CHAMBERSBURG'S LEADING CITIZENS

He was the Last of the Duncan Family of His Generation and was in His 84th Year.

AUGUSTUS DUNCAN, a native of Adams county, died in Chambersburg on Tuesday evening of last week in his 84th year. He was the last of his generation of the Duncan family, a man of strong personality and sterling worth. Something of the heart of the man speaks in two events of his life. He was married to Florence Rowan and was a most devoted husband and their married life of seven years was a most happy one. Three children were born to them, two dying in infancy. Mrs. Duncan died in 1860. A daughter grew to girlhood and was the idol of her father's heart and when 15 years old fell a victim to typhoid fever. The husband and father bereft of his loved one became a recluse and for nearly forty years lived alone on his fine estate near Chambersburg, giving strict attention to all his business interests but leaving no one into the chamber of his lonely heart, yet giving expression to many acts of kindness and charity. In 1878 Mr. Duncan took a southern trip in company with the late Henry J. Stable, and Hon. Wm. McClean, of this place. They crossed the Gulf of Mexico and were overtaken by a furious storm. Every passenger on board vessel was sea sick but two, Augustus Duncan and a baby. The mother of the baby was deathly sick. Mr. Duncan took charge of the baby and the two became devoted friends the rest of the trip and the only passengers who took their meals regularly.

Mr. Duncan enjoyed excellent health up to a short time before his death. On Saturday previous to his death he made two trips from his residence into Chambersburg. On his return home in the afternoon he complained of unusual weakness and a physician the same evening found him seriously ill from bronchial pneumonia.

Augustus Duncan was born in Cash-town, March 8, 1829. He was one of five sons of Adam Seth Enos Duncan and a grandson of Seth Duncan who served in the war of 1812 and participated in the battles of Lundy's Lane and Chippawa, being three times wounded in the Chippawa conflict. Augustus was educated in the preparatory department of Marshall college at Mercersburg, and in 1853, at the age of twenty-four, took up his residence in Franklin county at the Duncan mills in Guilford township. Since then he has been more or less conspicuous in large affairs in that county, but in later years his industries have been wholly given to his private interests.

Mr. Duncan was not desirous of holding public position but as a recognition of his qualities as a gentleman and his skill and knowledge as a fisherman, in 1884 Governor Patterson appointed him a member of the State Commission of Fisheries, a position he filled creditably and with much aid to the work of the body.

Mr. Duncan had always been a Democrat and in his more active years was a power felt in Franklin county politics. In 1867 he became one of the owners of "Valley Spirit" and was its business manager for nine years although not remiss as to editorial direction or suggestions. His partners in the newspaper business were the late John M. Cooper who founded that newspaper in 1847, sixty-five years ago and former Congressman William S. Stenger. For many years he served as a director of the National bank of Chambersburg and of the Chambersburg Gas Company.

Two years ago Mr. Duncan gave outright to the Chambersburg hospital—to which institution he had previously made generous donations—the two story building just east of the hospital. He had bought it a short time before at public sale for $3,000. A room in this building, called the Duncan Addition, he reserved for his use and the other portion is used as a home for the nurses, as intended by the giver. Here Mr. Duncan spent most of his time in the recent past.

Coldbrook, the country home and farm of Mr. Duncan, lies a mile east of Chambersburg. Mr. Duncan has owned this estate consisting of 114 acres, thirty-six years, purchasing it in 1876. The house stands on a slight elevation at the foot of which rise two streams of cold, clear water which flow into the Falling Spring, that runs through the place. The mansion was erected some time previous to 1794, is in excellent preservation and shows few signs of the ravages of time. Striking in its architecture, it stands about a third of a mile distant from the turnpike, the road over which Lee's army made its fated march to Gettysburg and within sight of the ground where Lee made his headquarters while camped near Chambersburg. The farm runs to the north side of the turnpike, the first milestone standing in front of it. The building is of limestone with a thick coat of roughcasting and challenges attention by the beauty of its site and the extent of its frontage.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, interment being made in the Duncan lot in the Chambersburg cemetery. Hon. Wm. A. Duncan, of this place was a brother and the surviving nieces and nephews are Chas. S. Duncan, of this place, William M. Duncan of Eureka Springs, Arkansas, Schmucker Duncan of New York City,

THE APRIL MAGAZINES

GREED FOR GRAFT IN A STATE LEGISLATURE.

Moving Pictures Used Extensively in Churches—Dr. Wiley Reads the Pure Food Bureau.

Greedy for Graft.

C. S. Raymond of the Chicago "Tribune" is writing a series of political short stories in "The American Magazine" in which he is revealing some of the comedies and tragedies of life in a state legislature. In the current number of "The American" his story has to do with the adventures of a newly elected country member named Polley. Following is a short extract: "He wastimid and embarrassed when the older members took notice of him, but the possibility that he might win their friendship and respect was alluring. He had received from an indulgent State an allowance of $50 for stationery. He also had been given a box containing a fountain pen, a hair brush, a penknife, a whiskbroom, a package of pencils, a box of pens, two erasers, three pads of yellow paper and four pads of white paper.

"He was prepared to believe any extravagance possible. He might dictate his letters to a stenographer if he could persuade one that his affairs were important enough to interfere with hers. The privileges of statesmanship seemed Babylonish."

Polley was so glib that he believed a story that raincoats were given freely to members. The story, as told to Polley, by practical jokers in the legislature, was that if he would climb the dusty stairs to the dome of the capitol he would find his raincoat waiting for him. He made the trip and when he returned was loudly jeered. He laughs best who laughs last, however, for Polley got even with his persecutors in a manner which Mr. Raymond entertainingly describes.

Moving Pictures in Churches.

The April "Woman's Home Companion" contains an interesting account of the development of moving pictures as educational agencies. Following is a brief extract, showing how moving pictures are being used in churches: "The Rev. Walter Burr, pastor of the Congregational Church at Olathe, Kansas, found that he could not induce people to come to his church during hot weather. On summer Sunday nights he rented a local air-dome, showed religious films, and talked to enormous gatherings. "Mr. C. B. Vickery, general secretary of the Missionary Educational Movement, is doubling and trebling the attendance at his meetings by introducing films showing phases of foreign life which missionaries aim to alleviate.

Dr. Wiley at Head of Pure Food.

Announcement is made that Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, late Chief Chemist of the Department of Agriculture, will on April 1st become Contributing Editor of Good Housekeeping Magazine, which will thereafter be the exclusive channel for his writings on pure food, health and like topics which have so long been associated with his name.

The Magazine has established and will maintain permanently at Washington a Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health, with Dr. Wiley in charge as its Director. He will be assisted by a staff of trained men and women, all of whom come with him from the Department of Agriculture. He will be untrammelled in the conduct of the Bureau by any interference from persons whose mercenary interests his investigations and publications may menace.

The Bureau will continue and carry on the aggressive campaign against food adulteration and kindred abuses which Dr. Wiley has prosecuted for years as an officer of the Department of Agriculture. In addition it will be put at the service of the public for examination of suspected food and toilet products, by whomsoever manufactured, and for protection against false weights and measures of every description.

A Landscape in Miniature.

The Japanese landscape garden is purely a work of art, constructed after a definite scheme and plan, ordered or fixed conventions every detail as much a matter of prearrangement as the strategy of a military campaign. Like the Japanese painting, it aims to express the spirit, the soul, the sentiment of a landscape; and while it is conventional and the product of arbitrary arrangement, it is yet nature—nature idealized, tamed, trained and brought to the perfect scale and harmony.

It is a great landscape in miniature, often the mere suggestion, the impression of some famous landscape of the empire, but never the abject copy of any one natural scene. Rather it is an idealization of some happy accident of nature or an improvement on it.—From Eliza Ruhamah Scidmore's "The Famous Gardens of Kio to" in the April "Century."

Boys Often Leave Farm Because Fathers Don't Let Them Have Any Real Money.

In the current issue of "Farm and Fireside," a contributor tells a number of stories showing why boys leave the farm. Following is one of the cases reported: "Just the other day I met a stalwart young fellow whose every appearance would indicate he was a 'son of the soil.' Six years ago he left the old home. At that time he had very little education, but by steady, industrious labor he has 'won out,' and to-day is a promising young lawyer. He told me that the first year he left the farm he obtained employment in a machine-shop at what seemed to him a large sum of money, $12 per week. He worked hard for nearly three months, when one day he received a telegram from his father asking him to return at once. Having left a delicate little mother, he rushed home with all haste fearing to find some great trouble at the end of his journey. His father met him at the station and calmly explained that his hired man had left and he could not get his hay in alone. My young hero, not daunted in the least, pointed out to his father that he had given up his position to return home and asked what pay he was to receive for his work. The father promised a certain small sum. After two months' hard work the son asked for money to buy a suit of clothes, which was given him. At the end of the season, when the young man wanted a final settlement, he was put off from time to time and at last went away to the city with an empty pocket and a heartful of resentment."

Smugglers Have to Dodge Searchlights on Lake Como.

One of the first nights I was at Cadenabbia I was awakened by sudden gleams of a bright light that lit up my room even to the farthest corners. I could not imagine what it was—thought at first it must be turning on all the electricity in her room—but I soon realized that it came from the water; then I thought one of the big hotels at Bellagio, just across the lake, must be on fire, but after a few minutes the light disappeared and the room was again in utter darkness. After a short time the light came again and continued at regular intervals until daylight. I asked one of the Italian servants what it meant. He told me it was the searchlight of a government boat which is stationed all night in the middle of the lake to keep off the "contrebandieri" (smugglers), who are always smuggling tobacco and silks across to Switzerland. Some people say that the government officials have an understanding with the smugglers and don't see the little boats gliding along the shore under the shadow of the mountains, but I can hardly believe the Italian government would spend so much money keeping the light going all night if no practical result came from it.—From "Cadenabbia," by Mary King Waddington, in the April "Scribner."

Auto Truck vs. Horse.

It costs to own and operate a motor truck up to five-ton capacity just about double what it costs for a horse-drawn wagon of similar capacity. That is at city prices, and country prices would still further favor the horse. Obviously the motor must be made to do more than twice the work of the horse. A one-horse wagon and driver costs $4.00 per day and can haul a ton for you eleven miles, returning empty, at a cost of thirty-six cents per ton-mile. A one-ton truck, at a cost of $3.00 per day, can haul the same load at a cost per ton-mile of twenty cents, but in order to do so it must haul it nearly four times as far, namely forty miles. This is on the basis of a ten-hour day with less than four hours standing for the motor truck. As the capacity increases, the necessity to cover more ground decreases, till with a ten-ton truck it is only required to run nineteen miles loaded to bring the cost per ton-mile down to nine and three-quarter cents.—Robert Slosson, in the April "Outing."

When Pride is Justified.

Far too many mortals are vain and self satisfied because of some temporary mercenary advantage, and in their eagerness to display that advantage at every opportunity often destroy their greatest blessing, the physical counterpart of sunshine, which is their own health. Neglected colds, irregular meals, overloaded stomachs and night revelry result in shattered nerves, depressed vigor and fatigue all of which invite decline and disease. Each person stands sentinel at the portals of his own health and he who guards, protects, strengthens and builds up a rugged constitution is justified in pride and finds therein his own recompense—the capacity to enjoy the fullness of life.

The strain of modern commercial and social living taxes strength and energy and in maintaining the highest self-efficiency we should not only cultivate deep breathing, out of door exercise, regularity and temperance in all things, but study the greatest of all physical power-creators which is body nourishment. In this, alcoholic preparations should be carefully shunned and such pre-digested nourishment as Scott's Emulsion which enriches the blood and creates vitality by building, healing and strengthening, should be selected.

Scott's Emulsion is scientifically prepared and is good for teething babies, nursing mothers, growing children, the aged and infirm. It contains no wine or stimulant, but is wholesome and pure and has helped millions to regain health and sustain it. Worthless substitutes are sometimes offered, but Scott's Emulsion is the genuine pure food medicine.

Prof. J. Howard Wert in an article in the Harrisburg Star-Independent tells of memories called up by a photograph of the Rose House on the Gettysburg Battlefield.

The next object from my collection to be introduced in this series is a large sized photograph of the historic Rose House of the Gettysburg battlefield, a noble stone mansion surrounded by stately trees and luxuriant shrubbery. Of this picture but three copies were made, neither of the others being now in existence, to the best of my belief.

Rose was a Baltimorean, a man of culture and educated tastes. Some one had told him that an agricultural life was one long drawn-out dream of enjoyment. Rose concluded to try it. An agent told him of a farm in Adams county, Pennsylvania, that combined all the essentials for perpetual happiness. The air was so pure that the one who breathed it was in danger of outdoing the Methuselah stunt. Rezo bought it. He found that it was an extensive farm—236 acres—not counting the numerous roads that meandered through it. It was a variegated lot of land, mostly very poor, interspersed with meadows and marshes, streams and streamlets, caves and springs, bogs and gulches, thickets and forests, ponds that were full of water and ponds that never held any water except when it was raining, and above all, thickly strewn gigantic syenitic boulders.

So Rose, late of Baltimore, went down to scientific farming. In the fine stone mansion, the proprietor kept hospitable house, the while his accomplished and cultured daughters were undisputed belles of the countryside. What Rose thought of his purchase after a few years of wrestling with poor soil, rocks, frosts adverse seasons, wheat pests, droughts, and excessive rainfalls, he kept to himself. What Rose thought of his plantation when Longstreet's legions finally vacated the place July 1863, is a matter of record; for his language was vigorous as became a man spasmodically endeavoring to utter the thoughts which arose in him.

For when the concentrated wrath of a century suddenly broke loose in one awful moment on the afternoon of July 2, 1863, in Sherfy's peach orchard and along the Round Tops, Rose and his family very wisely hastened away. They went with no luggage, taking naught of this world's goods but the clothes on their backs. This well they did, for the scenes all around and within the stately old stone mansion were scenes of blood and misery. No life was worth a moment's purchase as John Bigelow, from over on the Trostle farm, distributed three tons of shot and shell, case shot and canister among the brigades of Kershaw, Semmes and Barksdale.

A much disgusted man was Rose when he returned. His stock was gone, his furniture was gone. His house was filled with filthy clothing and vermin, his supply of drinking water polluted with dead bodies; nothing left of his farm but the rocks and some of the soil. Nearly 100 confederates were buried in his garden, some 175 behind the barn and around the wagon shed; the half of a body sent assunder by a spherical case shot, was in his spring whence came the drinking water. Graves were everywhere, one Confederate colonel being buried within a yard of the kitchen door.

Rose started a wholesale exhumation of those scantily interred around his door step, but the Federal provost marshal said to him "Nay," and he said it very firmly. So Rose hurried off to Baltimore, advertising the 1,500 Rebels on it as its crowning glory as a summer resort. It was bought by William Wible, for many years a battle-field guide. Then was taken the photograph of the old stone mansion which is now before me. Often have I been entertained in Wible's hospitable mansion, and on one of these occasions he gave me the prized picture on which this article has been based.

RUSSEL SPIES of McConnellsburg was sentenced in the Fulton county courts by Judge Gillan to not more than 6 or not less than 2 years in the Western Penitentiary. He was convicted of arson, having burned several stables, and later escaped from jail during the term of Sheriff Harris.

ELY'S CREAM BALM has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine chest among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffling. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

MRS. MELISSA BEITMAN who moved 21 years ago from York Springs to Delta, has sold her millinery store in the latter place and moved to Baltimore with her family.

THE TRUE TEST.

Tried in Gettysburg, It Has Stood the Test.

The hardest test is the test of time, and Doan's Kidney Pills have stood it well in Gettysburg. Kidney sufferers can hardly ask for stronger proof than the following:

Harry J. Tawney, 9 Steinwehr Ave., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "We publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills two years ago and at this time willingly speak in their praise again. My back ached almost constantly and at times I could hardly get around. The kidney secretions gave me much annoyance by their irregularity in passage and I was lame and stiff. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box at the People's Drug Store and they positively and permanently cured me. I have been in good health ever since. I know of a number of other people who have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and in each case benefit has been received."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

We want every woman in America to have the opportunity to try the "RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner in her own home. And to show our unbounded confidence in the machine, we've decided to send it out on 5 days free trial.

Use it as much as you like. Clean your carpets and rugs, your upholstery, curtains, walls, ceilings, mattresses, pillows, etc.

See for yourself how it makes everything as bright and new as the day it was bought. See how it cleans without raising a particle of dust, how it makes after dusting unnecessary. Watch it get the dirt from under heavy furniture, behind radiators and from other inaccessible places.

Try the nine special attachments which we furnish with every machine—the hair-drying tool, the tools for cleaning clothes, book-shelves, etc.

RICHMOND Suction Cleaner

Compare this easy, pleasant method of cleaning with the disagreeable backaching drudgery of brooms, mops and dusters.

Put the machine in every test you can think of.

Then at the end of 5 days if you are willing to part with the machine simply notify us and we'll send for it.

On the other hand if you wish to keep the machine you can pay for it on Easy Monthly Payments out of the actual money which the machine saves for you.

A liberal discount will be allowed those who pay cash.

The experience of most purchasers is that the "RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner pays for itself in from twelve to thirty months.

It pays for itself, first, because it does away with the Annual or semi-annual tear ups called housecleaning (and housecleaning costs more than you think unless you have figured it out).

It pays for itself, second, because it doubles and triples the life of floor coverings, hangings, furniture, wall paper, decorations, etc.

The "RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner weighs but 10 pounds. It can easily be carried upstairs, downstairs anywhere without the least fatigue. It is a truly portable cleaner.

A "RICHMOND" is built with a view to long durability and we cover it with the broadest possible guarantee. It is simple in construction. There is nothing to wear out. There are no gears, no diaphragms, no valves. Nothing to jiggle loose. To operate, simply attach to any electric lamp socket. Costs about one cent per hour to operate.

Surely you must see that the "RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner must give perfect service, perfect satisfaction, day after day, month after month, else we could not afford this offer.

But don't take our word for it. Find out for yourself. Try a machine at our risk. It doesn't make good—if it doesn't more than come up to your expectations, simply tell us to take it away. Could anything be more fair?

Remember it costs you nothing if you decide to keep the machine. All we ask is that $1.00 be deposited with us as evidence of good faith and to keep away triflers. The $1.00 will be refunded in case the machine is returned.

Prices Range from $40.00 to $85.00.

Mail the coupon and get full particulars. Do it now while you're thinking of it.

National Delegate Candidate.
Charles M. Kerr of Wrightsville, York county, has announced himself as a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention to be held in Baltimore in June. Mr. Kerr has long been an admirer of Governor

Wilson of New Jersey, and has a brother, the Rev. John T. Kerr, of Elizabethtown, N. J., who was a classmate of Governor Wilson at Princeton.
Following is Mr. Kerr's letter:
To the Democracy of the Twentieth
Congressional District.
I desire to announce my candidacy for delegate to the Democratic National Convention, which meets in Baltimore June 25th, 1912, to select a candidate for President on the Democratic ticket.
I am a great admirer of Woodrow Wilson and am heartily in accord with the lofty principles of good government for which he stands and, if chosen to represent this district at the coming National Convention, I shall do all in my power to have him nominated for President of the United States.
Thanking all for their influence and
support, I am,
Respectfully,
CHARLES M. KERR.

National Delegate Candidate.
To the Democracy of the Twentieth
Congressional District:
I hereby announce my candidacy for delegate to the Democratic National convention, which meets in Baltimore June 25, 1912, to select a candidate for President on the Democratic ticket.

We are entering upon a period of remarkable business efficiency all over the country, and it seems to me that we should make every effort to introduce this particular kind of efficiency into government as well as into commerce. I have watched with a great deal of interest Woodrow Wilson's advent into politics. All his life he has made a careful scientific study of political government, and from his speeches one can easily learn that he has ideas and convictions upon governmental problems far in advance of any one in public life today, and by his governorship of New Jersey he has abundantly shown that he has the ability to deal with concrete governmental problems.

My observation of Woodrow Wilson's activities has only served to increase my admiration for him, and to strengthen my conviction that he is the one man to lead Democracy to success next fall.

If chosen to represent this district at the coming National convention, I shall do all I can to have him nominated for President of the United States.
Thanking all for their influence and
support, I am

Respectfully,
S. FORRY LAUCKS

Announcement.
To the Sterling Democracy of the 20th
Congressional District:
After over half a century of unselfish and devoted service in the ranks of the Democratic party and a wheel horse in every campaign in support of the party nominees, I have, bowing to the persuasion of numerous Democratic friends, consented to become a candidate for the distinctive honor of representing the Democracy of the 20th Congressional District as one of the two delegates to the Democratic National Convention, to assemble in Baltimore, June 25th, 1912. Having no personal ends to serve, if chosen, I go there myself with substitution, to represent the Democracy of my district. Their choice of a candidate shall be my choice and receive my vote unbossed, without dictation from any person. As the chosen representative of the Democracy I pledge myself to obey their every wish in the selection of a candidate. This is the platform upon which I stand and in announcing my determination to become a candidate, I most respectfully ask the support and influence of my fellow Democrats.

JOHN S. HIESTAND,
Springettsbury Township,
York County, Pa.
Mar. 6, 6t

I hereby announce my candidacy for delegate in the 20th Congressional District to the Democratic National Convention to be held in Baltimore June 25, 1912. I favor Woodrow Wilson for President of the United States and if I am elected I shall do all in my power to have him nominated, and believing in progressive Democratic principles I will vote for and support the Hon. A. Mitchell Palmer, the reorganization candidate for Pennsylvania and I believe this to be a very important issue. Thanking one and all for their influence and support.

Very respectfully,
E. L. ECKERT.

FOR NATIONAL DELEGATE.
I hereby announce my candidacy
for the honor of representing the Democracy of the 20th Congressional District of Pennsylvania, composed of Adams and York counties as one of the delegates to the Democratic National Convention to assemble in Baltimore June 25, 1912. I favor Gov. Woodrow Wilson for the Democratic nominee for President.

FRANK B. SLONAKER.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS.
A. R. BRODBECK,
Of Hanover Borough.
In announcing my candidacy for Congress of this 20th Congressional district I do so with a sincere appreciation of the loyal support I received from about fourteen thousand patriotic citizens and voters of this District at the general election in 1910. While not successful in my efforts and not only a personal defeat, but it also deprived the Democratic party of this District of representation in the United States Congress to which it is justly entitled.
My candidacy is not necessarily of my own volition but it is augmented and promoted by loyal friends and further inspired by many who heretofore were not supporters of my aspirations, who now voluntarily urge my candidacy with a view of restoring this District to the Democratic column.
In submitting my candidacy for the suffrages of the citizens and Democrats of this Congressional District to be voted for at the Primary Election on April 13th, 1912, I respectfully solicit favorable consideration and support.
If I should be honored with the nomination as the Representative in Congress and be successful in the General Election in November next, I hereby pledge my loyalty to the principles of the Democratic party and my support to all policies and measures tending to promote the greatest amount of good to the greatest number of people throughout the Nation and to the constituents of this District in particular.
With these few statements expressed,
I submit my candidacy for Congress to the voters of the District, believing that the "people shall rule," and I shall cheerfully abide by the will of the majority.

A. R. BRODBECK.
FOR STATE SENATOR.

The many friends of Senator Martin in Adams and Franklin counties believing he was the right man to succeed himself in the State Senate, have made possible his nomination at the tion. Senator Martin's record in the Senate commends him to his constituents. He has worked unceasingly in the interests of the people of his district and the farmers and will appreciate their support and votes at the primaries on April 13, 1912.

To the Democratic Voters of the Twentieth Congressional District:

H. N. GITT

Mr. Gitt, who is not an active candidate, has consented to accept the Democratic nomination for congress, if the voters of this district consider him the most logical candidate, and if nominated, will make an aggressive campaign to win.

Mr. Gitt is not only popular in his home town, Hanover, but in what is known as the Democratic belt as well, and is unquestionably the strongest nominee who can be placed on the Democratic ticket, for the further reason that he is also well known throughout the whole of York and Adams counties.

He has always been an active and earnest worker in the interests of Democracy and always anxious to bring about harmony in the party.
If there be any Democrat of whom there ought to be many, who can redeem this district, there can be no doubt that he is one of them. He is a man of affairs, with more general personal knowledge and experience of the agricultural, industrial and commercial interests of this district than any other one man, and is undoubtedly well qualified to represent this important congressional district in the House of Congress.

In view of his exceptionally broad, wide and abundant experience on all matters pertaining to the vital issues of the day, he is peculiarly fitted to represent the people of this district, especially the farmer, the mechanic, the working man and the merchant, in congress.
This congressional district for a number of years has been misrepresented in congress by our present representative, a member of the party in the minority in the district. It is high time that this condition be changed and we believe that Mr. Gitt is the man who, if nominated, can and will bring victory to his party.

We, therefore, appeal to the Democratic voters of this, the 20th congressional district, to vote for Mr. Gitt on April 13th, for we earnestly believe that his nomination will insure the success of our party at the polls in November.

Yours very truly,
COMMITTEE OF DEMOCRATS INTERESTED IN THE SUCCESS OF THE PARTY.

children of Hon. Wm. A. Duncan, deceased; Frank Duncan of Chambersburg; C. Mark and Robert B. Duncan of New York City; John M. Duncan of Philadelphia; children of Calvin M. Duncan, deceased, a Chambersburg attorney for many years; Mrs. John R. Avery of Mont Alto, and Mrs. James K. Zug, Woodstock, children of a sister.

HARRY MASENHEIMER, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Masenheimer, of Hanover, met with a distressing accident last Wednesday which resulted in his death soon after. The lad was the unfortunate victim of the habit of "jumping wagons," which is indulged in by many boys despite the repeated warnings from parents and authorities. The fatal accident occurred near the home of the boy's grandfather, Peter D. Masenheimer. The household goods of John H. Miller were being moved on the same street. As the loaded wagon was passing by the furniture store of young Masenheimer's grandfather, the lad, with several companions, was playing in the street. The boys immediately decided to "hop on." Neither the driver, nor two other men on the wagon, saw this action of the boys. However they received a slight jolt and were hurried to the scene of the accident. The lad was lying on the wheels passed over the boy's body. Whether the lad lost his hold on an attempt to pull himself onto the wagon, or whether he had been on the wagon, and had fallen off, is not known, for there were no witnesses. However, there lying prostrate on the macadamized street, was the lad, suffering intense agony from the injuries received as one of the rear wheels of the wagon passed over his chest, fracturing five ribs and inflicting other internal injuries, from which he could not recover. Only a moment before he had been full of life, and with no premonition that the life was to be so suddenly snuffed out. The wagon was stopped immediately and the lad was tenderly carried to the porch of Peterman's store. His father was in the store at the time and he was overcome with emotion as he beheld the pitiful condition of his son. Upon the arrival of the doctor it was found that the lad was beyond human aid, and he died about twenty minutes after the accident. Funeral was on Sunday, services by Rev. M. J. Roth, interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery. The lad was a great-grandson of Perry Tawney of this place, his grandmother being Mary Tawney Masenheimer, who died about four years ago.

Rev. Dr. THOMPSON EDE, aged 76 years, died Sunday, Mar. 24, after a brief illness due to apoplexy, in New York City. He was returning from a Sunday service up in New York State and was taken to a hospital, where he lived almost a week, but never fully regained consciousness. He was graduated from Dickinson College in 1855, and began an active career as a teacher. In 1880 he became principal of the Cumberland Valley Institute and in 1885 retired from the institute to accept the presidency of Irving College, Mechanicsburg. In 1883 he resigned and entered the ministry of the Episcopal Church, having filled parishes in Gettysburg, Germantown and Philadelphia during his pastorate. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Alfred Dodson of New York, one brother, Prof. A. H. Ege, of Mechanicsburg, and a sister, Mrs. Edgar Zug of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. LOUISA M. SLUSSER, widow of George Slusser, died at the home of her son, Winfield Slusser, Starner's Station, on Saturday, March 24, aged 56 years, 9 months and 29 days. She leaves the following children: Mrs. Caroline Miller of R. D. York Springs; Mrs. Geo. Murtorf of Starner's Station; Winfield and Charles Slusser of Starner's Station; John Slusser of Mt. Holly Springs; Mrs. Fred Knoppe and Mrs. David Zell of Carlisle; also 35 grandchildren, 83 great-grandchildren, and 7 great-great-grandchildren, one sister and two brothers, Amanda Wantz of Highfield, Md., Wm. and Jerome Starner of Illinois. Funeral was on Tuesday of last week, services and interment at Goodyear; Rev. S. E. Smith officiating.

Mrs. MARGARET CARL was found dead in bed Saturday, March 23, at her home in Mt. Joy township, by Rev. J. Stewart Hartman and other neighbors who had not seen her about for several days and thought that she might be ill. She lived entirely alone. Mrs. Carl resided near the Hoffman Orphanage and with several other neighbors. Rev. Hartman went to her house Saturday afternoon and tried to gain an entrance. They found everything locked and finally broke in. Upon going to her bedroom they found her lifeless body on the bed where she apparently slept away. Mrs. Carl was 70 years of age and the widow of Henry Carl who died at the County Home several years ago. She is survived by three children, John Carl, of Gettysburg; Mrs. Ellen Reubenstine of Wolf's Hill, and Mrs. Martha Sterner of Greenmount.

Mrs. CAROLINE CRUM, widow of Reuben Crum, died at her home in Bendersville on Tuesday, March 26, aged 79 years, 1 month and 18 days. She was seized with a fit of apoplexy while performing her household duties about noon of that day and died in the evening, without regaining consciousness. She is survived by the following children: Elmer Crum of Idaville, Harry Crum of Ashland, Mrs. Annie Wolf and Mrs. Sue Heiges of Carlisle; Mrs. Judith Stroman of York, Alice, Mary and Reuben at home. The funeral took place from Mt. Tabor U. B. Church last Friday, March 23, interment at Mt. Tabor cemetery.

EDWARD S. TANEY, living near Mt. St. Mary's College, died on March 21 in his 23rd year. His father was Dr. Augustine Taney, a well known physician of Emmitsburg, falling a victim to the cholera scourge that visited that town. Mr. Taney was a member of the well known family of the name, having as its most distinguished son Chief Justice Roger B. Taney of the U. S. Supreme Court. The deceased was engaged in business many years in Emmitsburg with his father-in-law, Capt. McBride.

THESHA NAGLE died at the Eagle copper mines, near Charnian, in the western end of the county last Thursday evening. She was 8 years old, a daughter of Owen H. Nagle, general superintendent of the Eagle Copper Mines and was taken seriously ill in the morning, with diphtheria and died at 5:30 o'clock in the evening. The child had been complaining for several days but Thursday morning her condition became worse and a physician was summoned. He pronounced the disease diphtheria in a very severe form. He did all that was in his power to check its progress but was not able to accomplish any beneficial results and death came in the early evening. The funeral of the child was private Friday morning. The interment was at Fountaindale. There are six other little children of Mr. and Mrs. Nagle in the house where the death occurred. The house has been quarantined by the Adams county health authorities.

Rev. Wm. C. B. SHULENBERGER died in Hagerstown last Thursday aged 73 years. In 1895 Rev. Shulenberger became pastor of the Reformed Church of Emmitsburg and it was his last charge and he had many warm friends in and around Emmitsburg.

LEWIS JORDY, a well known merchant of Abbotstown, died last Saturday aged 79 years, 4 months and 28 days. He was a native of Abbotstown. He started his business career in Matthew Elchelberger's store where he worked for several years and then clerked for a while in York Springs. From there he went to York in 1855 and engaged in the service of the firm of P. A. and S. Small for a period of five years, returning to Abbotstown in 1860 to take up the mercantile business where he conducted a general store until 1904 when he retired from active business life. In 1858 he married Miss Elizabeth McKinley, of York. She survives with two sons, George, of Nyack, New York and William, of New York City. The funeral will be held from St. John's Lutheran church in Abbotstown at ten o'clock this Wednesday morning conducted by the Rev. Frederick K. Stenat. Interment in Abbotstown.

MRS. SARAH LOW, wife of Wm. H. Low of Fairfield, died at her home last Thursday, aged about 70 years. She leaves her husband, William H. Low, and ten children, Miss Mary and Harry, at home; William Low, of Hancock, Md.; Mrs. Emmert Kime, of Cumberland township; Mrs. Walter Moritz, of Freedom township; Mrs. Ellen Benson, Chicago; Eben Low, of California; Andrew Low, of Fairfield; Albert Low, of Fairfield; Mrs. Lewis Sprengle, of Hamiltonban township. One sister, Mrs. John Curran, of Ortauna, also survives. The funeral services were held in the Fairfield Reformed church, Saturday afternoon. Interment in Union cemetery, Fairfield.

He is also survived by four sisters and one brother—Mrs. John L. Fishel and Mrs. Amos Taylor, of Codorus township; Mrs. H. K. Martz, of Hanover; Mrs. Samuel Baker, of Hamilton township, Adams county, and N. B. Kitzmiller, of Manheim township.

Body of Baby Found.

Last week a child's body was found in the old ore bank at Upper Holly. The babe was wrapped in a skirt and was evidently placed there at birth, the coroner believes, and he is a physician. The head, shoulders and in fact the entire body down to just above the hips were practically dissolved, the coroner believes with quick lime or other dissolvent. Nearly half the body was nothing but bones. The ore bank pond is one of good size. A lad by name of Murray discovered the mysterious looking package partly in and partly out of water.

G. W. WEAVER & SON

BY THE GENTLE CYNIC.

No man should play practical jokes unless he is a good loser.

Misery loves company, but the company isn't apt to call again.

A trickster is merely a person who gets the better of us.

It is one thing to marry for love and quite another thing to carry out the scheme.

The decay of poetry may be due to the fact that so much of it is rotten.

Love is blind, but self love is the only kind that is positively incurable.

It is hard to get the best of some men for the simple reason that they haven't any.

If it wasn't for man's flattery there wouldn't be so much of woman's vanity.

Some people go through life on the principle that the worst medicine effects the surest cure.

Hunterstown Young Men's Club.

A young men's club has been organized at Hunterstown, rooms rented and members are now being enrolled. Rev. George H. Baker, pastor of the Presbyterian church, is at the head of the movement which is meeting with approval of the older folks.

Athletics will play an important part in the club's program and it is the intention to form a base ball team to compete with the other clubs in Adams county this coming summer. Tennis will also be another of the outdoor sports. Mr. Baker has the ground to make a court as well as the net and as soon as weather permits a good court will be scraped. Just now the boys are entertaining themselves by reading, playing games and planning for the summer sports. Hunterstown always has some good base ball players and no doubt a team will be organized that will make some of the other county clubs hustle for honors.

Athletic goods are wanted by the pastor of Conowago Presbyterian church for the club. Baseball gloves, catcher's mask, mitt, body protector, tennis racquets, boxing gloves, Indian clubs, games, or whatever will interest along the line of clean manly sports a lot of active young American citizens.

These young men have secured headquarters in which to meet, free from objectionable features. They are trying to help themselves, but lack resources. They deserve aid and should receive outside aid. All money contributed, as well as new and second-hand supplies, will be highly appreciated and duly acknowledged. Address, Rev Geo. F. Baker, Hunterstown, Pa., (Express, Gettysburg, Pa.)

Mrs. CHARLES KLINE, 42 North 8th St., Easton, Pa., desires others to realize the value of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs and colds. She says: "Several members of my family have been cured of bad coughs and colds by Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It soothes and relieves the irritation in the throat and loosens up the cold in the lungs. I have always found it a reliable cough cure, and always recommend it highly." People's Drug Store.

C. E. MILLER of McSherrystown has gone on a two months' trip to the western coast.

FRANK HAGERMAN and Ralph Beale of McSherrystown, have gone South to seek employment at cigar making.

WHEN a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from loaf sugar, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by all dealers.

Mrs. RUDOLPH DIFFENBACH who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Lucy Beam, near Emmitsburg, has gone to Asheville, N. C., where her husband has been sent by the Forestry Commission.

NEVER can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

THE many friends of Rev. W. C. B. Shulenberger in and around Emmitsburg will be sorry to hear he is seriously ill at his home in Hagerstown.

LAME shoulder is nearly always due to rheumatism of the muscles, and quickly yields to the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

TWENTY-FIVE shares of the Farmers' Bank of McSherrystown were sold recently: five shares, C. J. Delone at $75 a share; five shares C. J. Rohrbach, $75.25 a share; ten shares to C. E. Miller, $75; five shares C. J. Delone, $74 a share. Par value $50.

H. B. CREEP, 59 North 18th St., Harrisburg, Pa., says: "Some time ago I had occasion to use Foley Kidney Pills for my kidneys which were unhealthy and very irregular in action. Now after taking Foley Kidney Pills for a short time only, I have no pains whatever and the kidneys are acting properly and regularly. This was brought about by the use of Foley Kidney Pills which I heartily recommend." People's Drug Store.

MISS LAURA FILLINGER of Chicago has sold through Hollinger & Bro., her property in Littlestown to Arthur Bell of that place.

NICHOLAS LINGG is fixing up his mill near New Oxford, formerly the Diehl mill, with new machinery, making it right up-to-date. His brother I. N. Lingg of Emmitsburg, is assisting in placing the machinery.

WHY SHE DIDN'T WIN.

They were at Monte Carlo, and, like other visitors to that insidious paradise, they considered the Casino a place which ought to be visited. They stood hesitating before one of the tables, and at last the temptation to join the players proved too strong for the lady.

"I must risk just one ten-dollar note," she said to her husband. "Give me one, darling, and I will put it on the number of my age. That is sure to be lucky."

Hubby was inclined to be skeptical, but of course he might have spared himself the trouble of grumbling, and the ten-dollar note was duly deposited on No. 24.

Alas! No. 36 proved to be the winning numeral, and the lady gave a little gasp of despair.

"Serves you right," said her great brute of a husband. "If you'd told the truth you'd have won!"—Tid-Bits.

A Youthful Quibbler.

Caller—So you go to school, do you, little man? Let me hear you spell "bread."

Bobby—B-r-e-d.

Caller—The dictionary spells it with an "a."

Bobby—You didn't ask me how the dictionary spells it; you asked me how I spell it.

THE BRUTE.

Mrs. NEWED after the honey moon—You seem to be sorry you ever married me.

Mr. NEWED—You are unusually observant today.

A Warning.

There never was a motor car—We say it o'er again—There never was a motor car—That could outpace a train.

Naturally Excited.

"Say," asked the man who was a stranger in New York, "what's the matter with that man in the next room? He's been making a terrible racket for the last hour."

"Oh," replied the bell-hop, "he's just heard of a new table d'hôte place where he's never at."

Secret Out at Last.

"Why do you have those glass cases with the ax, hammer, crowbar and so forth on these cars?" asked the traveler.

"Oh, those are put there in case any one wants a window open," replied the facetious man.—Red Hen.

Entirely Different.

"They tell me your son is studying music."

"Yes; he is taking lessons."

"What is he going to be?"

"He is going to be a fiddler, but at first we had hopes of making a violinist out of him."

Gloomy Outlook.

"I'd hate to live in a small town."

"I suppose you have reasons."

"Yes. Just imagine what it would be like to be deathly sick with the only doctor in town your worst enemy."

Danger Ahead in the Kitchen.

Mrs. Knicker—How did the cook give warning?

Mrs. Bocker—She put one of those "Stop! Look! Listen!" signs in the kitchen.

EASY GETTING IN THEN.

Mr. Wilson—How did an old sinner like you, Rastus, ever manage to get into church?

Rastus—I'm one ob de charter members, sah.

Murrah for Him.

All hail the man of kindly parts, Of peace the prop; The fellow who, what'er he starts, Knows when to stop.

The Way.

"To strike in—"

"Yes?"

"Is the way to win out."

Almost a Miracle.

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holsclaw, Clearendon, Tex., was effected years ago in his brother. "He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all our family thought he was going into consumption, but he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 218 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for Coughs and Colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free at People's Drug Store.

FRANK THOMAS of North Dakota and Edward Thomas of Illinois, recently visited their sister, Mrs. Hemler, in Mt. Pleasant township. This was the former's first visit East in 19 years.

For Constipation.

Mr. L. H. Farnham, a prominent druggist of Spirit Lake, Iowa, says: "Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are certainly the best thing on the market for constipation." Give these tablets a trial. SAYING "HOWDY" IN MOROCCO

Only Inquiry That is Omitted Seems to Be the Classic "Howdy" You Used —?

The native Moors are not content with the salutations which pass muster with English when acquaintances are met in the street. "Hello, old man! How are you? Going strong—that's right. So long!" This sort of thing does not commend itself to the Moroccan.

Here is the kind of conversation, says Health Culture, that takes place at every meeting of any two friends or acquaintances, say Mr. Abd'Kahder and Mr. Boof-Hamara:

"Peace be with you this morning."

"And with you be peace."

"How do you do?"

"Without any ill."

"Are you well?"

"Thank Allah!"

"And is your health good?"

"It is good."

"And you have no ill in your body?"

"I have none."

"And your bones, how are they?"

"They are indeed strong."

"And your little bones?"

"There is no ill to them."

"And the marrow in your bones, is it well?"

"And your limbs, are they well?"

"They are sound, praise be the prophet."

"And the whole of your body, is it well?"

"It is well."

"And your forehead, how is it this morning?"

"By your life, truly it is well."

"And how is your nose?"

"It is free from any harm, I am grateful to you."

"And your ears, are they well?"

"They are well, may the prophet be blessed."

And so on and so forth, until almost every part of the human system has been alluded to.

A Sign of Age.

"I guess he must be getting old."

"Why?"

"He's quit thinking that he can sing."

Poison Pajamas.

And now it would appear, that the nocturnal bifurcated garment which like its (or their) daylight brother, trousers, must appear in the plural—in other words pajamas—are in serious disfavor in France, and the color line is to be drawn against some of the most radiant members of the pajamae fraternity. It seems that a young Parisian financier, a man of wealth and fashion, had for several weeks been suffering from a painful malady of the eyes and was threatened with blindness. The most learned oculists were consulted, but none could divine the cause of the mysterious malady. One day he made the discovery that following the occasions when he wore a certain pair of brilliantly red pajamas he was particularly affected. He took this pair of pajamas to the Pasteur Institute. The doctors at the institute extracted the color from the garment and inoculated therewith a number of guinea pigs, every one of which became blind. The young financier has brought suit against the "chemist" who had guaranteed the material.

Interviewed.

One day a well-known politician was enjoying a chat with a friend at a London hotel, when a strange young man came up and said:

"Can I see you for a moment, Mr. Dash?"

"Certainly," answered Mr. Dash, rising.

The young man led him across the room, and seemed to have something important to say to him. Arrived in a corner, the stranger whispered in the politician's ear:

"I am on the staff of an evening paper, and I should like you to tell me what you think of the situation in the east."

Mr. Dash looked a little puzzled at first, then he said:

"Follow me!"

And leading the way he walked through the reading room, down some steps into the drawing room, through a long passage into the dining room, and drawing his visitor into the corner, behind the hat rack, he whispered:

"I really don't know anything about it."—Tid-Bits.

New Low Grade Line.

That the Western Maryland Railway is contemplating the construction of a new low grade freight line from Williamsport through Boonsboro to the Main line of the road at Westminister, Md., is the belief of residents of Hagerstown. A number of high officials of the company have visited Hagerstown and vicinity within the past few weeks and looked over the territory with the low grade line in view, it is stated.

The purpose of the proposed line would be to overcome the difficulty of hauling heavy trains over the Blue Ridge mountains and the heavy grade between Williamsport and Hagerstown and from the latter city to Edgemont. This has always been a barrier to both departments of the railroad service and an additional heavy cost to maintain engines, especially for freight service.

The company's engineers more than a year ago surveyed for the low grade line south from Williamsport and secured, it was stated at the time, the desired two per cent. grade. Many persons in touch with the situation believe the low grade line will be the next step of the company in the way of railroad building. What the result would be on the communities through which the present lines go, would be problematic.
